

PRESS RELEASE

We are proud to announce that we are investing into universal skills training for our students.

We've always been a fan of equipping our students with practical skills that serve them for life.

That's why we're partnering with Universal Owl to teach our students healthy communication skills.

Henceforth, all students will be given online comprehensive training in assertiveness.

By training our students to be more assertive, we hope to make them:

- Better at sticking up for themselves
- Better at dealing with conflict
- Stronger at setting boundaries
- Better equipped to deal with interpersonal challenges

These qualities have great value in a workplace setting, but they are also traits that are worth cultivating across an entire lifetime.

This means that from the time a new student joins us, they will be learning skills that will positively impact the rest of their life.

We are so grateful to be an organization that is making a positive difference in our community.
